PREPARING FOR THE BATTLE OF BALLOTS

ELECTION BOXES READY FOR MANAGERS

IN RE THE COUNT

Every Precinct Should Phone Results to Intelligencer When Votes Are Counted

Managers of election are urged to call at the court house and get their ballot boxes and club rolls. Leon L. Rice, secretary of the county committee or Sam Davis, the custodian of the boxes, will be there to deliver them to the managers. Instructions for the managers will be found in the boxes.

Each manager is requested to phone immediately upon the conclusion of the count and to give the figures to The Intelligencer. These will be properly displayed upon a curtain across the street from this office. The managers are requested not to wait until the tickets in both boxes are counted, but to give the results on one ticket as soon as the count is finished, and then to phone the other results as soon as obtainable.

In every box the county secretary has placed twice as many ballots as there are voters enrolled and together with these ballots will be sent the oath to be taken by the managers. The Intelligencer has made every possible preparation for furnishing people of the city and county with the returns at an early hour as possible, but if the managers at the different boxes do not cooperate by telephoning the results in as early as possible all of these preparations will have been useless.

It was said last night on the streets of Anderson that the betting was getting lively but it is generally understood that no big money has yet gone up in this section. Most of the bets have been for small amounts and at even money, so far as has been learned.

BIG CONCERN IS TO GIVE PRIZES

International Harvester Co. Will Help With Next Grain Festival and Will Have Exhibit

Ever since the First Grain Festival was held in Anderson county a few weeks ago, it has been known that the next festival will be a much larger event in every way than was the first and Furman Smith and the Anderson chamber of commerce have already met with greatest encouragement in their efforts toward planning for a greater festival for next year. The news will therefore be welcomed by Anderson farmers when they learn that the International Harvester Co. has consented to give a number of valuable prizes and in addition will send a really handsome exhibit to Anderson for the festival. This was the statement made here yesterday by a representative of the company. This gentleman said that the company was well pleased indeed with the results of the exhibit sent to Williamston for the Farmers' Chautauqua and he believes that still other results may be secured from sending a more elaborate display to this city next year for the grain festival.

The first festival was a great success and next year the event will be ten times larger than it was this year. The Harvester people are evidently wide awake to the fact that Anderson county is the banner agricultural county of the South.

NEW QUARTERS TO BE COMPLETE

Anderson Real Estate and Investment Co., and Realty Trust Co. Occupy New Building

When Ligon & Leabette's handsome new building on Main street is completed the Anderson Real Estate & Investment company and the Realty Trust company will occupy the second floor of the building. These two companies have closed a contract for that part of the building and each company will occupy several rooms. The remaining rooms will be sublet by these two companies.

The new building which is now in course of construction will be one of the finest in the city and it will prove to be a fine location. There will probably be a demand for office rooms in the new structure.

According to the plans the building is to have all modern improvements and will be up to date in every fashion.

German Artillerymen at Practice

For years the German kaiser, the war lord of Europe, has been getting the German army up to the highest point of efficiency. The troops have been constantly drilling and maneuvering. Here are shown artillerymen at target practice. The men elevated is keeping score. These men will now have a chance to exercise their skill at human targets.

ORDERLY CROWD HEARD SPEAKERS

Williamston People Turned Out In Force and Listened Attentively to Candidates

Between 300 and 400 voters gathered at Williamston yesterday to hear Anderson's 64 candidates for county office tell of their particular fitness for the places to which they aspire. The day was marked by splendid order and not a question was asked.

Capt. G. W. Sullivan presided over the meeting and introduced the speakers. The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock and before dinner the candidates for commissioner and those for the house of representatives and finished their addresses. Following the dinner, the regular schedule was taken up and completed in the afternoon.

The candidates will speak at the Orr mill tonight at 7 o'clock and then the county campaign will come to a close when the speakers will deliver their last addresses in the court house Saturday.

The meeting held last night at the Williamston mills was said to be the best that they have yet held. The order was perfect, not a speaker was worried in any manner whatsoever, and the very best attention was accorded every candidate.

About 175 men and 75 ladies were in attendance completely filling the hall over the Company store room. W. I. Mahaffey, one of the candidates and the president of the Williamston mill club, acted as the chairman.

While music for the occasion was furnished by the First regiment band of Williamston.

All but three of the candidates were in attendance and delivered their speeches and they complimented the Williamston mill people on the splendid behavior and thanked them for their courteous hearing and hospitality.

PENNANT RACE IS VERY CLOSE

Gluck and Belton Tied For First Place and Rivalry Is Now Intense

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Anderson Mills baseball league at the local Y. M. C. A. last night, all of the matters of interest to the league were discussed and adjusted in a manner satisfactory to all the representatives of the different teams. Each of the four teams in the circuit had several representatives present and splendid rivalry was much in evidence.

Both the Riverside-Toxaway and Brogan teams realize that they have no chance to land the pennant, however each is determined to place the other in the cellar. It will be noted from the standing of the teams that the Gluck and Belton teams are tied for the first place. These teams will lock horns on the Gluck diamond next Saturday afternoon and a lively contest is expected. At the same time Brogan and Riverside-Toxaway will be fighting it out at Buena Vista park.

Both of these games will be good exhibitions and a good sized crowd is expected to witness the contests. From this time until the close of the season interest will be high. Below is given the official standing of the clubs to date:

Club	W	L	P.C.
Gluck	7	1	875
Belton	7	1	875
Riverside-Toxaway	2	8	200
Brogan	2	8	200

P. O. INSPECTOR IN THE DISTRICT

H. G. Morganroth's Arrival In Anderson Has Been Productive of Speculation as to Mission

Whether or not there is any connection between the two facts will remain to be seen but several days ago an announcement came from Washington to the effect that rumors or pernicious political activity on the part of certain postmasters and rural free delivery carriers in the Third congressional district had reached the ears of the postmaster general and yesterday H. C. Morganroth, post-office inspector, arrived in Anderson. It may be that Mr. Morganroth is here merely for his regular inspection of the local office or it may be that he has been sent to the Third district to investigate the charges which were forwarded to Washington.

When the news dispatches were sent out from Washington telling of the reports received there, the statement was made that these charges would at once be investigated.

GOV. BLEASE WILL SPEAK SATURDAY

Has Been Announced That He Will Address Anderson Voters At Court House

Governor Cole L. Blease, candidate for the United States senate and Fred H. Dominick, candidate for Congress, will address the voters from the court house steps Saturday night at 8 o'clock. It is expected that this will be a largely attended rally and that the governor will make one of the best speeches of his campaign. He has stood the long campaign well and is in good speaking trim. Mr. Dominick is also a good speaker, his address in the court house during the congressional campaign having received many favorable comments.

It was stated yesterday that Mr. W. P. Pollock had been invited to speak at one of the mills here Saturday night, but it was not stated whether he had accepted.

Julius H. Anderson, president of the Citizens National Bank, returned yesterday from a trip to Washington and New York in the interest of his and other banking institutions. Mr. Anderson's principal object was to try to get more currency with which to finance the cotton crop.

In New York he found a more optimistic feeling prevailing, and he reports that the banking houses there readily assent to renewing paper from Southern banks, although just at present they are making no promises about lending more money.

In Washington, in company with Mr. Alkon, Mr. B. Frank Mauldin, Mr. Les G. Holleman and others, he called upon the officials of the treasury department and made formal application for Anderson to be treated in the same manner as Spartanburg and Greenville in the government's distribution of cotton crop loans. The matter is being given serious consideration by the treasury department.

Mr. Anderson is very much pleased over the outcome of his visit. He was glad to see the returning spirit of confidence in New York.

PICNIC TODAY AT TOWNVILLE

A community picnic will be held today at Townville, at which time a farmers' institute will also take place in connection with the picnic. A number of Anderson people will go to Townville for the day.

ABBEVILLE SCORED TREMENDOUS SUCCESS

BIGGEST PICNIC UPPER SEEN IN UPPER STATE

CROWDS CHEERED TO DECIDE TODAY

Farmers Institute and Annual Picnic Attracted People From All Over South Carolina

The Abbeville section yesterday scored one of the biggest successes that the community has ever participated in when the annual picnic was held in connection with the Farmers' Institute. People returning to Anderson last night said that they had never attended a more enjoyable event nor had they ever seen things managed in better style.

The Abbeville section is so located that anything held there naturally attracts people from Anderson, Greenwood and Abbeville counties and yesterday people from all these counties were present as well as from other sections of the State.

The picnic dinner was a decided feature and the Anderson delegation praised the people of Abbeville to the skies for their ability to furnish a dinner as good as may be found.

Sam Wakefield was master of ceremonies and handled the program for the day in a business like way. He kept the interest of the large crowd aroused and was very active throughout the day.

When the time was reached for the Farmers' Institute program to be begun the speakers had the crowd interested and every lecturer was given very close attention. The first speaker to be introduced was C. C. Newman of the department of horticulture of Clemson college. He delivered a splendid address on fruit growing and measures to be used in treating fruit diseases.

Prof. H. W. Darro professor of botany at Clemson college, spoke on the disease of cotton. He discussed eradication methods and outlined plans for eliminating diseases in cotton and the best method to handle the boll weevil, which is now traversing in this direction.

Miss Carrie Hite, of Columbia, State superintendent of rural schools, made a charming address in which she discussed the girls' clubs and the domestic science work.

Prof. W. R. Elliot of the Coast station at Summerville, state demonstration agent, discussed the subject of cover crops and soil building, which was profusely illustrated with a handsome map and with figures showing the value of inoculation in leguminous crops. He said that South Carolina's woefully large fertilizer bill of $27,000,000 per annum, could be cut in one half by the planting of legumes and cover crops.

The fourth and last speaker was Miss Mary E. Frayer, United States government agent and in charge of the domestic science work in this state, under the auspices of Winthrop college. Miss Frayer discussed the various phases of the domestic science work and her remarks were very pleasing to the large audience.

Every person in attendance enjoyed the day and it is believed that some good will result from the efforts at forth.

FIRE DAMAGE IS NOW REPAIRED

Contractor Has Rebuilt Burned Glenn Street School and It Is Now Ready For Use

Work of repairing the Glenn street school building has been completed and the school will be ready to open when the first day of the session rolls around on September 14. It is remembered that fire completely gutted this building about one week after the last school session came to a close. The board of education let the contractor for repairing of the building to C. M. Guest, the work being done on a daily contract basis.

E. C. McCants, superintendent of the city schools, said yesterday that the building is now better than it was before. The material used in the interior finishing is of better grade than was that in the former building and one additional room has also been provided. Mr. McCants says that the building is now one of the best in the city and he is well pleased with the job executed by Mr. Guest.

ANDERSON BEAT TAR HEEL CHAMPS

Won Shut Out Game From Fast Morganton Team By a Score of 6 to 0

Special to The Intelligencer Morganton, N. C., August 20.—Anderson defeated Morganton, the champion amateur team of Western North Carolina, here today 6 to 0. Morganton twirled the best game the locals had faced this year and allowed only three scratch hits, his team featuring by heavy hitting. Martin and McCall got home runs.

A community picnic will be held today at Townville, at which time a farmers' institute will also take place in connection with the picnic. A number of Anderson people will go to Townville for the day.

WINTER CHAUTAUQUA COMING TO ANDERSON

FOR THREE DAYS DURING FEBRUARY

CROWDS CHEERED TO DECIDE TODAY

Some of the World Famous Stars Are Included in the List of Attractions

It is quite likely that a deal will be closed in Anderson today by which one of the largest and most attractive winter chautauquas in America will be brought to the city for a three days engagement early in February. If this deal is closed, a line of superb and worldwide attractions will be brought to Anderson which will equal anything to be seen anywhere on either the lyceum or chautauqua platform.

Chas. E. Varney, Jr., formerly of Paw Paw, Mich., one of the great summer resorts of the northwest, but now of Gainesville, Fla., where he is connected with the Christian Culture Institution, spent yesterday in the city interviewing the officers of one of Anderson's best known local organizations, the name of which is now temporarily withheld.

Mr. Varney stated that already such large and important cities as Augusta, Macon and Atlanta, in Georgia, and many other important cities in Alabama, Florida and South Carolina had contracted for the service.

Today Mr. Varney will see the directors of the local organization referred to, and will on the recommendation of the president close the deal which will bring this great attraction of artists to Anderson.

Mr. Varney stated to a reporter of The Intelligencer last night that the attractions were just from Europe, and that the conflict between the nations of that country will guarantee some of the best and most up-to-date talent in the entire world for the circuit.

The talent is made up of the greatest American and European celebrities. Axel Skovgaard, the great Danish violinist, and company of international reputation will give the musical entertainment for the first day. The world famous Hearnson Sisters will give two programs. Gay Zeonta McLaren of New York will give a recital of a famous play. Marie Stapleton Murry, the great dramatic soprano, will appear on the program. William Sterling Battle will be here with his marvelous portrayals of the Dickens characters in costume and make-up. And more than all this every afternoon there will be a lecture given in series by either Dr. Tuppe, the famous scholar, Mrs. Meddie O. Hamilton, of Chautauqua, N. Y., or Mrs. Varney.

This intellectual feast of the very best will be given to the appreciative audiences of Anderson in double program every afternoon and evening.
